OVERVIEW

Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM), an important component of world medical science, has made an indelible contribution to human health and world civilization for thousands of years. The Chinese government has been working unremittingly to promote the heritage and development of TCM. On the basis of the first, second and third “International Conference on the Modernization of Traditional Chinese Medicine” launched successfully in 2002, 2005 and 2010 respectively, the Ministry of Science and Technology, the Ministry of Health, the State Administration of TCM, the State Food and Drug Administration and Sichuan Provincial People's Government have decided to hold “The 4th International Conference on the Modernization of Traditional Chinese Medicine” in Chengdu of Sichuan Province from September 26 to 27 of 2013.

With the theme of “Traditional Chinese Medicine Concerted Innovation & Industrial Development”, the conference will hold firmly to the tradition as well as face up the cutting-edge science. The latest trends and advanced ideas of the innovation, application and development of TCM will be discussed from multi-angles, aiming to establish a profoundly influential platform for the communication and development of TCM. The Organizing Committee warmly invites medical officials, scholars, entrepreneurs and investors from governments of all countries and regions, international organizations, research institutes, medical institutes, universities and well-known pharmaceutical enterprises to come for this grand gathering, to discuss the great course of the development of TCM and jointly accelerate the process of modernization and internationalization of TCM, which will be of great benefit to human health.
